THE GOVERNOR'S STATE EMPLOYEES FOOD DRIVE was founded in 1982, when governor Vic Atiyeh saw that the state employees have a role to play in supporting those in the community who need help. Since its founding, the food drive has provided more than 60 million meals to hungry Oregonians. Last year alone, state employees donated more than 2.5 million meals and approximately 90,000 of those came from the generous giving of University of Oregon employees.

The food drive kicked off on January 29th and runs the month of February. I will be the site coordinator again this year and keep you informed on the numerous ways employees can elect to donate to their regional food bank of choice.

Euphoria bags of chocolate hearts in milk and dark chocolate will again be available, only this time in limited quantity. They will cost $4.00/ea. (a savings of $1.00 off retail price). All proceeds go to Food for Lane County. I should have these in my possession by February 12th.

The money jars are in 3 locations within CPFM—the lobby of bldg. 136, Shelley Knight's desk (D&C) in bldg. 130, and upstairs at CPS cared for by Desiree Higgins. Please consider giving generously.

I will be ordering barrels from Kyle Spangler for nonperishable food donations, and placing them in the lobby of bldg. 136, the breezeway of bldg. 130. PLEASE let me or Kyle know if you want any additional barrels for your location.

Other donation opportunities include making a payroll deductions, writing a check, or donating monthly. More to come.

Thanks.
Anne

Please join me in congratulating Dave Harris for obtaining a certification in NFPA 70E electrical safety in the workplace.

This standard covers key issues in electrical safety.

- Electrical safety work practices.
- Establishing electrical safe working conditions.
- Calculating ARC flash hazards.
- Electrical maintenance requirements.
- Lock out tag out procedures.
- Establishing a workplace Electrical safety program.
- Hazard analysis, risk estimation, and risk evaluation procedures.

If anyone is interested in this standard, ask Dave or myself and we will gladly share the information.

Thanks and congrats to Dave.

University of Oregon
Utilities and Energy Electrical Superintendent

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

To the list of recipients for the GEORGE WEYRENS SCHOLARSHIP for this academic year. Three recipients were selected, with two receiving $1000 each and one recipient (who only takes one class) receiving $500.

Katelyn Swarringim $1000
Abbey Ward $1000
Briana Liberty $500

FRANKLIN BLVD Transformation

This week, the City of Eugene hosted an intense multi-day design workshop. During the Design Discovery Workshop, there were three opportunities to get involved with the project and provide your input. The workshop provided a four-day opportunity to gather community feedback and incorporate it into initial design concepts for a transformed Franklin Boulevard.

APPA FT. WORTH Institute for Facilities Management

CPFM took part in all 4 core areas:

Phil Carroll and Pat Rankin—Planning, D&C
Yen-Chu Hubbard—Administration & Mgmt.
Tad Lueck—Energy & Utilities
Jim Cody—Maintenance & Operations

Once each person completes four areas, they receive a plaque recognizing their achievement for completion of the full institute program. Good going!

Pat reported back that there is loads of good BBQ in Ft. Worth, which they thoroughly enjoyed.

UO 13th Avenue Conceptual Design Project Open House and Public Lecture

The University of Oregon is embarking on a conceptual design project for 13th Avenue to redefine the role of this important open space on the UO campus. Campus Planning is hosting an open house to share the project and conceptual design options with the campus and community to receive feedback. That evening Gehl Studio, a sub-consultant for the project, will be presenting a lecture to discuss how data is transforming the world's most livable cities and creating design drivers which will reshape 13th Avenue through the UO campus.

Open House: February 7, 2019 from 11-1 in EMU 023 (Lease Crutcher Lewis Room). Light refreshments will be provided.

Public Lecture: February 7, 2019 from 6-7 in Lawrence Hall 177. Reception with light refreshments from 5:30 – 6pm in the lobby. Design concepts for the 13th Avenue Conceptual Design project will be on display.

Questions: Contact Aaron Olsen, UO Campus Planning, at aaolsen@uoregon.edu or call 541-346-5564.

Urban design has gone through many fashions, from the Beaux-Arts to Modernism to Ecological Urbanism. But what makes a city really work and really loved? From footrests for bicyclists at Copenhagen's stoplights to ad-hoc neighborhood plazas in Queens to retrofitting Buenos Aires's largest slum with generous walking streets, a global revolution is changing the way designers outfit cities based on what people want and need. Less obvious is the data behind these transformations. Collected over years and sometimes decades, careful ethnographic research and people-focused data has provided designers, policymakers, and politicians with evidence to make radical changes to the fabric of cities—and a way to measure success. From the town square to Times Square, measuring the daily routines of the human animal is providing an essential lens to design cities for the 21st Century. Gehl partner and managing director Blaine Merker will tour some of these projects and talk about how people-focused methods are being put to use in creating a conceptual design for 13th Avenue on the University of Oregon campus.

DIVERSITY RELATED EVENTS FOR FEBRUARY 2019

Count me in for Everyday Inclusion

The VPFA diversity committee—which includes six representatives from CPFM and FASS—is running the Everyday Inclusion initiative throughout February. Be counted in for inclusion—click on the raised hands image in an email or sign up to participate using the paper sign-up forms and drop boxes across CPFM. These drop-boxes for sign-up forms will be located in the CPFM reception, Lillis basement, and the Grounds Shack.

Throughout the month of February, you will have the chance to pick from a broad range of activities—large and small, individual and group, online and in-person—as well as participate in an activity with your work team.

Check out the website at <https://vpfa.uoregon.edu/celebrating-everyday-inclusion> for more info.

The Diversity Development Fund (DDF) is accepting applications. The parameters are very broad, the cost of the project can be small or large, and there are several application deadlines each year. If an idea is time-sensitive, the committee will do their best to review applications outside of the quarterly deadlines. The proposal should enhance diversity education within VPFA and benefit at least a few VPFA employees.

More information can be found on the VPFA website: <https://vpfa.uoregon.edu/diversity-development-fund>. All are encouraged to email VPFAdiversity@uoregon.edu if they have an idea they want help with—they do not have to wait until their proposal is final. Flyer is on the left, please post it around your offices.

Tunde Jowosimi's last day - January 31st.

He's moving to Georgia to rejoin his wife and children.

We will miss him, and wish him the best on his new adventure.

Concur Support Sessions

We were fortunate enough to have Laurie, Jacoby and Brooke Millett from the BAO come to our offices and give two sessions in January on how to navigate Concur. These were well attended and much appreciated.

Hi, Phillip.

I just wanted to send a quick note letting you know what a great job your team has been doing with de-icer this week with the current cold snap we're experiencing. The folks here really appreciate their efforts.

Thank you,

Hi Phillip,

I would like to express my appreciation for the job that Amber Stich, Carson States and your crew did in cleaning of the courtyards in the Health Center building. And also the upkeep and work on the perimeter of the building. Awesome job. And I would like to wish you all Happy Holidays.

Thank you.

The carpet cleaning looks great. Please pass my compliments along. The spill from catering last fall either came out with the cleaning or the tiles were replaced.

Subject: Compliment for outstanding employee-August Sherman

Hello Pat and Johnny,

I wanted to take a moment to let you both know how great of an employee you have in August Sherman. I work in the Thompson University Center, and not only I, but countless other employees here have remarked on how great August is and his level of politeness, as well as hard work. I've managed many people over the years, and if I had a department full of August's, I'd be extremely happy. He always has a smile on his face, he seems to be proactive in certain situations, without anyone having to point something out to him. I feel that in many instances, people have no problem contacting employees' supervisors to complain, but very few take the time to let it be known what a great employee you have. This is not just coming from me, I know of quite a few people not just in Payroll, but throughout Business Affairs, that have all remarked how great August is. And I just wanted you both to know that. Thanks, and have a great weekend!
