OPAL WHITELEY

Many thanks to the exceptional talent of Ellen Tykesen who created the sculpture of Opal Whiteley as a child. Opal Whiteley was born December 11, 1897 in Colton Washington and relocated to Walden Oregon, near Cottage Grove, in 1904. She was a renowned writer at a young age and attended the University of Oregon beginning in 1916.

The sculpture is located on the Northeast corner of the Knight Library. The project sponsors were Mike Andreasen, Mike Harwood and Jeff Butler. The project team was a collection of contractors and internal staff, which included: Aaron Olson of Planning did the conceptual design. David Cates and Nathan Chaffee in Design and Construction created the construction design. The GC, Tim Gribble of Preferred Construction, coordinated the construction and sculpture installation. The concrete subcontractor, Scott Brown of Brown Construction, did the concrete installation. Rexius did the irrigation installation. Rob Berg and Brandon Flock of Facilities did the electrical work. Phil Carroll and Jane Brubaker of Facilities did the plantings.

Thanks to Ellen Tykesen and the Tykesen family for their continued support of the University, and all the skilled crafts people who made this vision a reality.

The Romania Open House took place on Friday, April 5th, and although the Women's Basketball NCAA Tournament Watch Party was occurring across the street simultaneously, the attendance was good.

DeAnna Tarango, Steve Pelkey, LeAnna Pitts & Justin Porter attended Asset World's AiM User Conference in Allen, TX. They networked with other universities across the US that are utilizing AiM, learning best practices and enhancements. There were several takeaways including a way to link external GIS links in AiM, document management, scripts we can utilize and how to best implement a training program.

Subject: Lawrence Hall 125 heat

Good morning,

In speaking with Kevin Bloom this morning, whom CPFM has had working on this problem, and his diagnosis on our heating issue, I wanted to send my thanks for finding a resolution to a problem that has been persistent for over 3 years with the heat in Lawrence 125 and associated office spaces.

An especially big thank you for the quick response, as the heat is now working, and eventually our space should feel comfortable for the first time in a long time.

Please forward along to the appropriate supervisor as I want them to know how satisfied we are with the customer service we received on this matter.

Many thanks!

Hi Justin & Tad,

We just completed our punch walk of the Condon 313 and 369 project. Thank you for your hard work. The rooms look great and at about 2/3 of the cost of going outside for this work. This one is a big success for the construction shop, especially in light of budget cuts university-wide.

Thank you again!
