Employee News

The first Quest for the Best meetings began on July 19th at 7AM. We are eagerly looking forward to your input. This is the best way for us to know what our employees want to keep, start and stop doing here at CPFM. As soon as the meetings conclude (mid-August), we will start analyzing the data and let you know what the next steps are. Stay tuned for more information! Thank you all for participating.

If you've missed your scheduled session, please let your supervisor know and contact Anne so she can get you rescheduled. She can be reached at annecs@uoregon.edu.

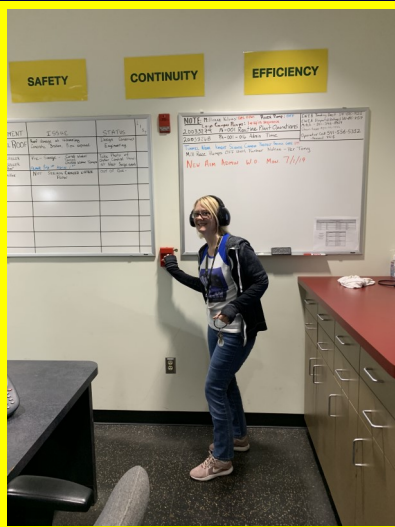

Open for Business

The much anticipated bathrooms in Bldg. 130 opened for business on July 24th. They look great and offer a gender neutral bathroom with shower, multi-stall bathrooms for men and women, a private lactation room off the ladies room, and a separate custodial closet. Wonderful additions to the building.

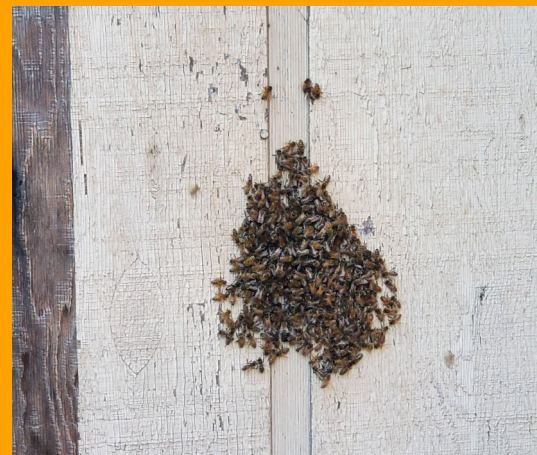

Employee News

Utilities & Energy had their bi-annual fire drill in July. Misty Kasper and Paul Langley pushed the buttons that started the action. They tested all emergency trip mechanisms. Everyone evacuated safely and things went according to plan. The next drill, coming soon, will be the a Shake Alert.

Upon Cory Elgin's arrival to a call at UOPD bike barn, he discovered a large number of bees hovering around a hole. When he called in the gentleman from Fisher Pest Management, they opened the wall and found the 2+ year old hive. It has been relocated now. YIKES!

DIVERSITY RELATED EVENTS August 2019

On August 1st at 11AM, in lieu of our regular Diversity Forum, Jane Brubaker is organizing a group for a tour of the Museum of Natural & Cultural History. The focus of the exhibit is Oregon's story, from the archeology of the First Americans to the dynamic cultures of today's tribes.

Featured indigenous artist: Cannupa Hanska Luger

Raised on the Standing Rock Reservation in North Dakota, Luger is a New Mexico based multi-disciplinary artist who invites us to engage with indigenous Peoples and values.

Featured collection: The world's oldest shoes

People have been living in Oregon for more than 14,000 years. The stories of these first Americans are partly revealed through archeological collections from the state's high desert caves. These sagebrush bark sandals were recovered by archeologist, Luther Cressman in Fort Rock Cave, and are over 10,000 years old.

Featured display: What's your story?

What brought you or your family to Oregon? How far back do your roots go? What inspires you most about this place? Come share your own Oregon story in this interactive exhibit

I would like to give a shout-out to some of the women who get things done around here. Since there are several new folks, I thought I'd put out a pic.

We conduct our CPFM / FASS Admin meetings bi-monthly now, in order to keep up on each unit's activities.

Employee News

Cimmeron Gillespie from Zero Waste took a magnificent trip to Scotland, where he saw Edinburgh Castle, waste collection bins at Stirling Castle, recycling on public display, a flower garden shaped like a unicorn, and an anti-litter campaign in Oban. He got to see how climate change has effected national monuments and the necessary mitigation techniques being developed to offset the damage. He saw three incredible castles and hiked Ben Nevis (tallest mountain in the UK), used his refillable mug on the Isle of Islay, and rang a 550 year old church bell at a 775 year old church. Thanks for sharing, Cims!

On July 9th, 2019, Eleni Tsivitz from Campus Planning, welcomed Dante James Recio, weighing in at 7 pounds, 8 ounces, and 21" of perfection. Big brother Dominic is very excited. Mother and son are doing well. Congratulations!

On August 1, Emily Eng should have her baby, but I couldn't wait so we'll feature that next month. Congrats to both!

Bruce,
I couldn't remember all the folks in the chain of command, so please forward this kudos to the pertinent supervisors. Jeff showed up early and often during the planning phase of our renovation at Allen, and during the actual move. Not only did he direct, but he was a full participant in the heavy work. I have never seen a move go so smoothly, especially laudable since there was a lot of complexity. Jeff even handled everything and made great decisions even when I had to step away for a day. Jeff is a treasure, we couldn't have done it without him.

Subject: FW: Student Health west loading dock AMAG entry door-appears to have damaged wiring from possible demo actions

Hi Ken,

I would just like to let you know that Kirk Gilbert went above and beyond to repair the West entry door card reader that was damaged during demo work for the renovation taking place at the Health Center. I sincerely appreciate all the hard work and immediate response I always receive from the lock shop. Have a good afternoon.

Thank you.

Greetings,

I work in Susan Campbell Hall and wanted to reach out to let you know what a great job Dan is doing in our building. While I hesitate to say how good he is for fear you all will move him to another building, I think I would be remiss if I didn't sing his praises.

He is always friendly, courteous, and upbeat. I enjoy seeing him to say hello and I trust he will not draw me into a 20 minute conversation (as I have been in some case with custodians).

The other thing is the guy works his butt off.....he is moving!!.....yet things are always incredibly well done. He doesn't cut corners at all. He also doesn't vacuum in the middle of the day causing us all to close our doors. Trust me when I say we didn't appreciate that afternoon noise a few months ago.

In summation, he is a great worker, keep him and keep him in Susan Campbell!!
