Employee News

The beautification of the Quonset Hut continues with some photos of projects CPM has worked on.

In response to the email below, Facilities Services came to the rescue!

I am writing to you all to seek input and support to address what I consider blight in the area of the of the Millrace where are students walk to either go to Autzen Stadium, exercise, or use this as a path to Duck Village. During the football season this is a heavily travelled path. The train trestle going over the path is concrete and covered in graffiti. It sends an exceptionally bad message to our students and their families who regularly travel this area. Attached are photos depicting how bad this area has become. I am asking for your assistance and direction as to who can support cleaning up this mess. Captain Morris will be taking the lead on our end but the cleanup piece is out of our wheel house and I am sure not University property understanding we are stuck with it. All advice is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Matthew E. Carmichael

Fantastic work by CPFM Grounds Crew, outside the Ford Alumni Center and Johnson Hall.

On August 1, Emily Eng from Campus Planning, did have her baby—Reece Young McArthur came in to the world at 7 lbs., 11 oz., 21” long. Big sister Keira is his biggest fan. He’s gorgeous!
CONGRATULATIONS!

Below are some photos, submitted by Dave Harris, of a recent tunnel rescue drill performed by the Eugene-Springfield Fire Department Rescue Team. It was a great opportunity to speak with them about some of the hazards found in the tunnels, both seen and unseen. Apparently they had not been in the tunnels before and according to the battalion chief, it really opened their eyes to the difficulties and obstacles they may encounter while trying to perform an extraction. Dave says “As someone who is in the tunnels daily, my opinion is that it was definitely time well spent.”

Mike,

The train trestle off of Mill Race looks wonderful. This is a big deal for our duck families and removes long standing blight. Your team is Rockstar!!!

Thank you all. Great work. Made an automatic huge improvement to the area.
