CPFM NIGHTTIME WINTER CELEBRATION—DECEMBER 12, 2019

Employee News

Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night shall stay these CPFM employees from getting to work!

While parking remains a daunting task, I thought I would throw a shout out to the ones who make it easier on those of us who drive.

CPFM has some hard-core, die-hard bikers and here are SOME of them.

Join Us for WOHESC 2020 at the University of Oregon March 2-4, 2020

Join us at the University of Oregon in Eugene for WOHESC 2020 to learn, connect and strategize for the future of climate justice in higher education. WOHESC 2020 will continue to advance action around equity, diversity and inclusion through thematic elements, speakers and attendees while aiming to examine systemic change and generate dialogue that guides and inspires action. Our outstanding conference program will focus on the root causes to sustainability challenges and positive actions to address them. Experts and leaders in higher education and sustainability will share their experiences on topics ranging from meaningful projects that impact the community and the environment, climate resilience, social permaculture and more.

View our 2019 Event Report to learn more about the issues that were covered, who was there and our results.

"WOHESC 2020 brings sustainability leaders from around the Pacific Northwest to the University of Oregon. The UO has long been a leader in sustainability in higher education, featuring top-ranked academic programs, leading researchers, sustainably designed buildings, thoughtful operational practices, and passionate, active students. We're excited to open our campus to the top thinkers and doers from around the region. The UO is located in Eugene, Oregon, long a center for environmental and social activism, and a place working hard to become a leading medium-sized sustainable city. We encourage this year's participants to continue developing the focus on diversity, equity and inclusion in sustainability while at the same time sharing solutions-oriented best practices. The conference is an ideal setting for students, staff and faculty to come together to strategize, share, and take action across all areas of sustainability."

To: Amy Lake <amydlake@uoregon.edu>
Subject: Kudos

Amy,

Carrie Jones, who was working the basement this afternoon is outstanding. She knew to be quiet when she saw the “On Air” light on in the hallway. She is also hustling pretty hard.

Kudos to her.
